DOLLINGS OFFICIALS GET PEN TERMS

HARRISON GIVEN SIX YEARS AND BENHAM GIVEN SEVEN

Overruling Motions For a New Trial Judge Hickenlooper In Federal Court Wednesday, At Columbus, Sentenced Dwight Harrison and William G. Benham To Atlanta Penitentiary—In Addition To His Sentence Benham Was Fined $4,000—They Were Convicted On the Charge of Using the Mails To Defraud.

William G. Benham and Dwight Harrison, former heads of the R. L. Dollings Co., were sentenced in federal court in Columbus for the second time following conviction on charges of using the mails to defraud, but drew lighter sentences than they did following their previous conviction, which was followed by the granting of a new trial by the circuit court of appeals.

Benham, who on the previous occasion was sentenced to serve 20 years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, this time was sentenced to serve six years at Atlanta and was not subjected to a fine.

Motion for a new trial and arrest of judgment having been denied by Judge Smith Hickenlooper, who presided in the case, R. R. Nevin, Dayton counsel for the defense, declared the case again would be carried to the circuit court of appeals.

Judge Hickenlooper allowed the two men one week to renew their bonds and 30 days in which to prepare an appeal.

Conviction was obtained by the government in the second trial on four counts pertaining to intent to defraud in connection with the International Note and Mortgage Co., a Dollings subsidiary, while the defendants were acquitted on counts pertaining to the activities of the Phoenix Cement Co., another subsidiary. The previous conviction in district court, in which the larger sentences were imposed, was on counts charging fraud in connection with both concerns.

Benham and Harrison both were sentenced for five years on each of two counts, the sentences to run concurrently.

At the conclusion of the five years, Benham is to begin serving two years on each of the other two counts, the two-year sentences to run concurrently. At the conclusion of his five years in the penitentiary, Harrison is to begin serving one year on each of the other two counts, the one-year sentences to run concurrently.

In moving for a new trial before the passing of sentence, defense counsel contended that there was a variance between the charges made in the indictment and the charges brought out by the government attorneys in pleading their case and obtaining their verdict.

"There is not a line, or word, or syllable in the testimony anywhere to indicate that Benham or Harrison controlled the R. L. Dollings Co., or that they even had one cent's worth of stock in the company," Mr. Nevin said.

"Everything that the layman understands by control has been demonstrated," was Judge Hickenlooper's reply.

The court also said the defense in moving for a new trial "showed a marked change in attitude between the two trials."

"The court of appeals in granting the defense a new trial has ruled that the Dollings plans themselves must be excluded from the case as presented in the indictment upon which this case was argued," Judge Hickenlooper said. "Now the defense counsel claims the Dollings plans do enter into the case and from the opening argument in this second trial to the closing charge, you have contended that the government must include the question of the legitimacy of the Dollings plans as of more importance than the schemes of the subsidiaries. There is certainly a marked change in attitude on the part of the defense."

E. C. Rector, G. P. Foresman and George Emerson in Hundred Bushel Club.

This county's corn yield this year was exceptionally fine. Edward C. Rector, of Deercreek township, had a yield of 1127 bushels on ten acres which when reduced to a 20 per cent moisture gauge, measured 119 bushels to the acre.

George P. Foresman, who manages the T. C. Millar farm, had a yield of 121 bushels to the acre which will figure 113 bushels to the acre under a 20 per cent moisture gauge. Elmer Stout farms the Millar land.

George Emerson, of Pickaway township, had a yield of 103 bushels, field measure. The moisture factor has not been determined as yet.

Mr. Rector's corn was grown from certified Claxage seed purchased from F. E. Eichelberger, of Fayette county, who had a yield this year on his ten acres of 121 bushels to the acre, which is leading in the state contest.

Over 500 acres of certified Claxage seed corn was planted in this county this spring by sixty farmers. This corn will be very generally used in planting next spring because of the splendid results obtained.

POTATO KING CROWN GOES OVER SCIOTO

J. C. Stevenson Raised 917 Bushels and Twenty Pounds on Two Acres.

John C. Stevenson, of Jackson township, has become a member of the Three Hundred Bushel Potato club, a branch of the extension service of the department of agriculture of Ohio State university which cooperates with the Pickaway County Farm bureau. The application was signed by Bruce Stevenson, a son who had charge of the potato growing on his father's farm.

The ground was measured by J. D. Bragg of the Farm bureau before the potatoes were dug. Two acres out of a field of a three and eighth-tenths acres was measured. This two acre plot yielded by itself 917 bushels and twenty pounds of Carmen potatoes, or 458 bushels and 40 pounds to the acre and the three and eighth-tenths acres averaged 402 bushels to the acre, actual weight.

Mr. Stevenson always carefully selects his seed potatoes. He used about twelve loads of cattle manure and 500 pounds of complete fertilizer to the acre. He plowed the ground early and it was in a fine state of cultivation. Forty-five loads of straw were used for covering.

Mr. Stevenson did not spray his potatoes for leaf hopper or blight this year, but has purchased an outfit which he will use periodically thru the growing season hereafter.

Pickaway county can feel pretty sure that it has the Potato King of Ohio, because the crop this year is far below normal.

The time is passed when the measure of the value of a memorial is quantity. I hope the time has come when that measure is quality. I care not whether the material be marble or granite, its future will be measured by the character of the design. It is quality that has preserved for us the finest examples in painting and sculpture. It is quality that will stamp our imprint upon cemeteries of the future. Simplicity, correct lines and proportions and proper ornamentation are the real fundamentals. A design that is right, material that is lasting and perfect workmanship, spells success for the future of this industry and the beautification of the cemetery. New Bird Trap

"I was visiting Oakland cemetery here in Atlanta, Ga., and Mr. Henning, the superintendent, showed me how a bird had been caught; in fact the bird showed him how. There was an empty fruit jar sitting up near one of the walks. An insect of some kind dropped into the jar. The bird went in and got it, but in trying to get out he had to open his wings as if flying. His wings opened and he would always fall back into the jar."—Pathfinder Magazine.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Spaniard" came to town at the Metropolitan theater yesterday.

It's a Raoul Walsh production for Paramount. Ricardo Cortez, Jetta Goudal and Noah Berry are featured in the production, based on the popular British novel of the same name by Juanita Savage.

As Dolores Anneslay, a high spirited young woman of the world, who has been mistress of herself and imposed her will upon others, Miss Goudal meets Cortez, as Don Pedro De Barrego, a modern cave man. Don Pedro falls desperately in love with the girl at a ball in London. Twice he proposes marriage, which she refuses. Then he abducts her. The girl tries to escape, but is prevented by the Spaniard.

Don Pedro decides to teach her what love really means, using much the same methods a man might use to tame a bucking broncho. Gradually Dolores begins to see things in a new light—the suffering she has caused other men before she knew what love really is.

Dolores only knows The Spaniard as a fearless bull-fighter, who gets what he goes after. He does not tell her that he belong to one of the oldest and wealthiest families of the Spanish nobility, until after they are married.

From start to finish "The Spaniard" is full of drama, the settings are excellent and the costuming is a modern fashion show.

Remarkably big catches have been made recently by the whaling fleets of Durban, Union of South Africa. For one 24-hour period 42 whales were taken, weighing approximately 1,800 tons. One whaling company alone had landed 15 whales while two of their boats were steaming into Durban with catches of four and five whales each.—Commerce Reports.

SERIOUS SITUATION

Is Faced By the State of Ohio In Caring For the Rapidly Increasing Number of Prisoners.

Columbus, Nov. 3.—While temporary relief from the crowded condition of the penitentiary will be afforded by utilizing the new industrial building as a dormitory, it is only a question of time, and a very short time, when either more room must be provided or counties will be compelled to hold their prisoners and await their turn at being received. Ohio is probably no worse than in years gone, but the population is rapidly increasing and with this condition it is but natural that the prison population should be increased accordingly. The special legislative investigating commission has recommended that no further money be spent on the penitentiary itself, but rather at the London prison farm. But little money is available for the purpose and of course the building program is being delayed. When politics is eliminated from the prison problem then Ohio will be able to care for its criminals and not a bit sooner. For years Governor Donahey has attempted to secure a brick plant in which hundreds of men could be profitably employed but each time the legislature has blocked the attempt, and it is but natural that Ohio is confronted with a serious situation in caring for its prisoners.

MILLIONS

Of Young Fish Have Been Placed In Ohio Streams By Fish and Game Division of State.

Columbus, Nov. 4.—Dent O. Thompson, chief of the fish and game division of Ohio, has been busy during the past few weeks stocking the streams of the state with game fish. This year millions of young bass, catfish, crappies and other fish which thrive in Ohio waters will be distributed from the various hatcheries. The season has been a splendid one in every way and millions of these young fish raised to good size at the London, Middle Bass and other hatcheries are being placed in streams wherever there is sufficient water to assure their growth. The demand for these young fish from sportsmen is greater this year than ever before, because in the opinion of Mr. Thompson, the number of fishermen is increasing faster than the supply of fish. Good catches of both large and small mouth bass have been reported from many of the streams of the state.

Nothing is being left undone by the present game division to make the Ohio streams the best stocked of any state in the Union. Expansion of the fish hatcheries has been made and millions more young fish will be distributed this year than ever before.

A System of Farming That Brings Health and Prosperity

Every farm, regardless of the method of farming practiced or of the crops raised, should have at least a few good milch cows to provide

- (1) Enough milk, cream and butter for home use;
- (2) Enough skim-milk to raise some calves, pigs and chickens;
- (3) Enough cream or butter to sell to pay, in part or entirely, current living expenses.

This plan has been a "life-saver" for thousands of farmers, especially during the hard times of the past two years. It insures a living, at least, and often other income besides.

Such a plan pays best with a De Laval Cream Separator. It soon pays for itself—and skims cleaner, lasts longer and is easier to operate and clean than any other.

PAUL'S FAREWELL AT MILETUS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 20:18-38.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said, It is more blessed to give than to receive."—Acts 20:35.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul a Loving Friend.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul's Farewell at Miletus.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—An Example of Faithfulness.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Responsibilities of Church Members.

After the uproar at Ephesus, the Jews laid wait for Paul to destroy him. This plot obligated him to retrace his steps through Macedonia instead of taking a more rapid sea voyage. He tarried with the disciples at Troas, meeting with them around the table of the Lord, and speaking words of encouragement to them. In order to be at Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost, he did not go to Ephesus, but sent for the elders of the church at Ephesus to meet him at Miletus. The picture of Paul's farewell to the Ephesian elders is a very touching one. His object in this address was to impress upon them their responsibilities. The analysis of his address has been so well made by Doctor Stiller that it is substantially reproduced here.

I. Paul Reviews His Three Years' Ministry at Ephesus (vv. 18-21).

1. The Spirit of His Ministry (v. 19).
(1) He was humble, "serving with all humility of mind."
(2) He was tender, working for them in tears.
(3) He was faithful in the face of trials which befell him because the Jews were lying in wait for him.

2. The Diligence of His Ministry (vv. 20-21).
(1) He made known everything which was of profit unto them. This every true minister or teacher will do.
(2) He taught both in public and in private. A minister's work is not done when his pulpit ministrations are over. The effectiveness of his public work is sometimes determined by his touch with the people in their homes.
(3) He neglected no class, whether Jews or Greeks. The Christian minister must be exceedingly careful here.

3. The Theme of His Ministry (v. 21).
This was repentance and faith. Men and women need to repent of their sins and believe on the Lord Jesus Christ.

II. Paul Presents the Present State of Things (vv. 22-27).

1. His Immediate Purpose (v. 22).
This was to go to Jerusalem. The constraint of the Spirit moved him to go forward though he did not know the things that should befall him there.

2. The Shadows Lying Across His Path (v. 23).
Though bonds and afflictions awaited him, he went forward to his work with undaunted courage.

3. His Fixed Purpose (v. 24).
This was to complete his ministry, which was to testify the gospel of the grace of God which he had received from the Lord Jesus Christ.

4. A Sorrowful Prediction (v. 25).
Those among whom he had labored should see his face no more.

5. He Leaves No Debt of Obligation Behind (v. 26-27).
He was pure from the blood of all men.

III. Paul Sets Forth the Ephesian Elders' Responsibility (vv. 28-35).

1. Motives to Duty (v. 28).
(1) They received their call and commission directly from the Holy Spirit.
(2) The flock for which they must care was purchased with the precious blood of Christ.

2. Perils Ahead (vv. 29-30).
(1) Grievous wolves would enter the flock and mercilessly devour them.
(2) False teachers would arise from among their number.

3. Incentives to Watch (v. 31).
Paul's own example. For three years he watched night and day with tears.

4. He Commends Them to God, and His Word (v. 32).
He knew that this Word was able to build them up.

5. He Was Unselfish in His Service (vv. 33-35).
(1) He did not covet any man's silver, gold or apparel.
(2) He labored with his own hands and taught.

IV. Paul's Prayer (vv. 36-38).
Having spoken these words he knelt and prayed with them all.

Patience
Patience is a beautiful trait, but it is not worn oftentimes by those who walk on life's sunny side in silver slippers. It is the product of days of adversity. "The trial of your faith worketh patience."—Evangelical Messenger.

No Room for Hatred

Elderly Wives Preferred Judge T. G. Allen, who has been probate judge of Chase county for the last seven years, during which time he has issued licenses for and married hundreds of couples, has observed a peculiar fact with reference to Mexican couples who come to his court for matrimonial purposes, says the Topeka Capital. He has found that in the majority of cases Mexican bridegrooms bring to the marriage altar brides who are older in years than the grooms themselves. That trait is not noticeable in any other nationality, the judge finds, as in the big majority of cases the bridegrooms are older than the brides. Just why the Mexicans should prefer a wife older is not quite clear, at least to this matrimonial court.

Heat with Distinction

At last it is proved that a home heater can be good looking—ornamental, if you will—as well as a practical heat-producing utility.

The Mueller Furnacette marks the greatest advance in home heating equipment since the invention of the heating stove. It is the joint creation of master furniture designers and skilled heating engineers. There is distinction in every line of its well-balanced, walnutgrained, vitreous enamel cabinet.

And as for heat—never was there an above-floor heater of any kind that could compare with the Furnacette in heating efficiency! It heats the whole house by continuously re-circulating warm, moist air thru all the rooms. It provides more comfortable, more uniform heat than two or three stoves combined, yet uses no more fuel than an ordinary heating stove.

Sold on convenient monthly payments.

FAKED ROBBERY.

Dayton, O., Nov. 4 (UP). —Lyle Horton, 24, self-styled prize ring artist Wednesday regretted faking a robbery and reporting the theft of $270. He confessed police say, that he told a vivid yarn about being attacked in an alley Sunday night and being relieved of his roll, which he said he received for an engagement at Cincinnati. He wanted the story to make an impression on a young lady and set up an alibi for the non-payment of his room rent.

He has a nice warm room at the jail house now which won't cost him any cash. He went over on the charge of loitering.

PRIZE GIVEN CIRCLEVILLE ROTARY CLUB

Lancaster Very Generously Awarded Three Emblems to Three Contestants.

President Tom Ashton and three other members of the Lancaster Rotary club; Osman Burk, Russell Walkey and Tom Taylor, attended the Thursday noon luncheon of the Circleville Rotary club at the Boggs.

At the recent Inter-City meeting of the different Rotary clubs of the district held in Lancaster, the Circleville club won a prize for one hundred percent attendance and the mission of these gentlemen here was to deliver it to the local organization.

In the contest three clubs; Nelsonville, Logan and Circleville, tied for the prize as all these were represented, one hundred per cent strong, and Lancaster magnanimously awarded a prize to each.

The prize, a large shield bearing the Rotary wheel, was presented by Rotarian Walkey in a neat speech to which President Neuding graciously responded.

At the dinner club members and visitors were delightfully entertained by a quartet of sweet singers; Miss Helen Marion, Mrs. James Moffitt, Mr. Fred Wittich and John Galleher.

The handsome prize won by the Circleville club and so generously awarded by Lancaster, may be seen in the show windows of the Ohio Utilities company.

REAL ESTATE DEAL.

Thru the Circle Realty company Eleanor W. Bisell sold her property consisting of 9 rooms, located on North Court street to Ruben Aronson.
